

TEAM BUILDING

AT THE 4* LIMERICK STRAND HOTEL

Chain Reaction at Limerick Strand Hotel

Chain Reaction is a focused, team building oriented event with the goal of targeting specific areas of employee development. The group is split into teams with each team designing, planning and constructing a one-of-a-kind machine to achieve a certain outcome based on a specific brief. This indoor package is ideal for promoting creativity, innovative approaches, self-awareness, and collaboration, to name but a few. One thing's for sure, along with the incredible inventions that are going to be on display by the end of the session, there's going to be lots of group dynamics & competition on display too. This is a very meaningful and highly inclusive team building event. To add further value to your team building experience, there's also the added option of having a qualified facilitator monitoring the group's progress, intervening at the appropriate times and providing valuable feedback and insights during and after the event.
